

Esther Locke, RN, BSN

Esther Locke joined Penn United Technologies, Inc. in 2004, bringing her extensive prior nursing experience to benefit the employees of Penn United. She is a graduate of Carlow University's Bachelor's of Nursing program. As a Registered Nurse and occupational health nurse, Esther worked 15 years at Allegheny Valley Hospital including work in their emergency department and occupational health department. Since joining Penn United, Esther has been instrumental in the company's safety and wellness programs. In addition to being part of the certified safety committee, she also is lead first responder. Esther has worked to promote and improve the corporate wellness program, which led to Penn United being recognized in 2011 and 2012 by Pittsburgh Business Times as one of the 'Healthiest Employers in Western PA.' Esther's extensive nursing knowledge is surpassed only by her kindness and care she demonstrates every day to the employees of Penn United Technologies.
